Umm sir..
I looked at its blueprint but that's just a spaceship designed to escape the earth

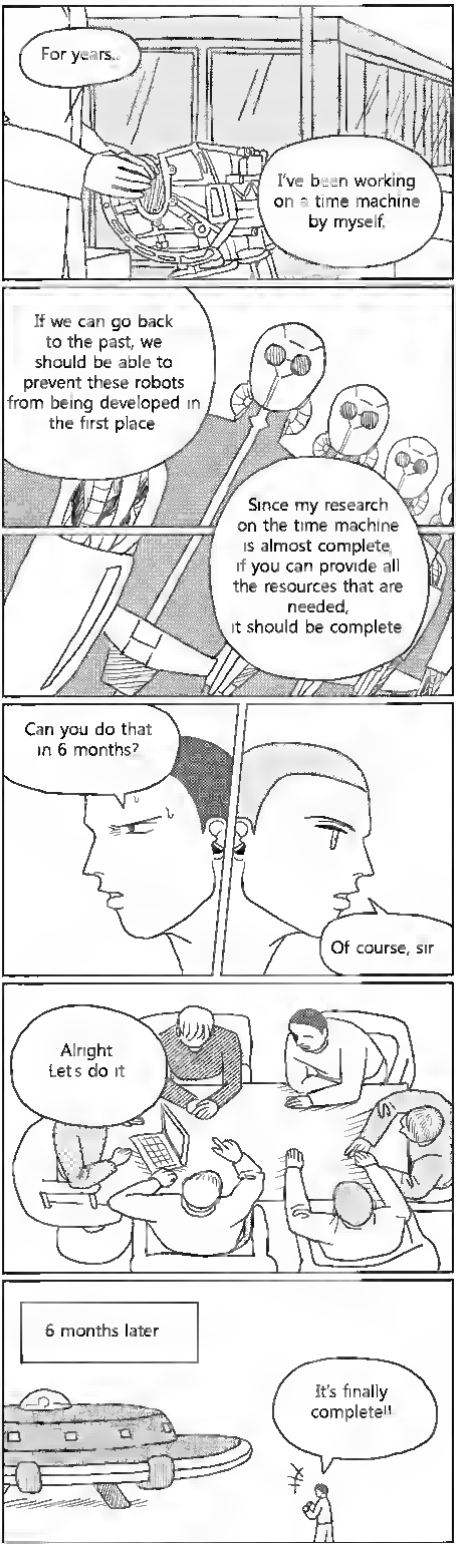
88. War between Humans and Robots

In the future humans get conquered by robots they developed themselves
Later on, the robots decided to eradicate humans by launching a nuclear missile
Damn it
With the current technology, we are no match to the robots
Well sir there is one way actually
What is that??



For years..
I've been working on a time machine by myself.
If we can go back to the past, we should be able to prevent these robots from being developed in the first place
Since my research on the time machine is almost complete, if you can provide all the resources that are needed, it should be complete
Can you do that in 6 months?
Of course, sir
Alright Let's do it
6 months later
It's finally complete!!
